WOULD EXPEL CRITIC OF BIBLE

Baptist Pastors Demand Author-Professor Resign.

MAY FACE HERESY CHARGE

Quotations From Professor G. B. Foster's Teachings Read at Conference of Executive Council of Church. Action Postponed For One Week.

Chicago, June 8.—Professor George B. Foster, of the University of Chicago, whose writings, denounced by some as a "bitter indictment of the Christion religion before the bar of skepticism," have harrowed the clergy of Chicago, at a meeting of Baptist preachers of Chicago, was called on by Rev. Johnston Myers, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, to withdraw from the Baptist ministry and to yield up his ordination papers. The fire of criticism was directed chiefly at Professor Foster's recent book, "The Function of Religion."

This motion was put before several hundred preachers and laymen, gathered at the conference of the Baptist executive council, and only the objection of one man, Professor A. K. Parker, prevented the eviction of the author of "The Function of Religion." Professor Parker prevented action by calling attention to a constitutional provision, preventing action without a week's deliberation. The case accordingly was postponed until June 14.

"Professor Foster declares," said Rev. W. A. Mathews, of the Tabernacle Baptist church, in the course of a review of the recent book penned by Professor Foster, "that one who calls himself a believer in the Bible is a 'knave.' Then, thank heaven, I am a knave."

"May I ask how that word is spelled?" interrupted Professor Parker.

"K-n-a-v-e," repified the speaker.

"If you will pardon the correction," observed Pofessor Parker, "I have the book in my hand, and the word is spelled 'N-a-i-v-e.'"

"Professor Foster states in his book," continued Mr. Mathews, "that God did not make man in his own image, but that man made God in his own image. He says we are not fallen angels, but developed animals. He says that miracles have always been the refuge of ignorance, and that modern technic must take the place of magic. I wonder what he means by 'modern technic.'

"He declares that science has undermined the Trinity—of course that is in his own mind. He says that Jesus was a child of his time, and that to copy Jesus is to kill the soul. He makes a tirade against the clergy. He says that the book of humanity is greater than the Bible.

"The title of his book should have been 'Religion Without Christianity.' He is guilty of the supreme conceit of ranking self greater than Christ. He styles our grand old book as the 'petrified remains of the Christian religion.'"

While Mr. Mathews was speaking the situation was tense. The auditors leaned forward to catch every word of the poceedings.

When the motion was made to expel Professor Foster, there were cries of "Second it" from all over the hall.

Tibbens—Lee.

At twelve o'clock noon, Tuesday, June 2nd, a very pretty little wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin D. Lee, when their daughter, Miss Maude Irene was married to Mr. Earle Orean Tibbens. The attendants were Miss Mary Grimm, as bridesmaid and Mr. G. Harry Wise, as best man. The wedding party wended their way to the bridal altar to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march with Miss Marian Riddle of Pleasant Gap presiding at the piano. These young people were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Fred W. Barry of the Lutheran Church, the beautiful ring-ceremony being used. About thirty persons, the immediate relatives, witnessed the nuptials. After the wedding dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Tibbens left for several days honeymoon in the east, when they will return and go to housekeeping in their new home on Spring street. Mr. Tibbens is bookkeeper in Gamble and Gheen's mill. The many friends of these young people join in wishing them a long and happy life.

PROBES SHUT DOWNS AT MINES

Government Claims Men Are Kept Idle to Lessen Output.

BOOKKEEPING TO SHOW LOSS

Witness Testifies Delaware & Hudson Company Made Only Four Cents a Ton Profit, But Paid Fifty Cents a Ton Royalty.

New York, June 9.—The question of idle time in the hard coal mines was gone into by the government's counsel at the resumption here of the hearing in the suit against the coal-carrying railroads.

Edgar Gartley, weighmaster of the Delaware colliery of the Delaware & Hudson Railway company, near Scranton, Pa., testified that out of 314 working days in 1908 the colliery had been idle 164 days, and that thus far this year the mine had worked less than that.

"Isn't it a fact that orders were sent out to shut down the mines to reduce the amount of coal sent out from the mines?" asked Deputy Attorney General James C. McReynolds, the government counsel.

The witness said he did not know.

Gartley said the coal veins in the Delaware colliery were becoming exhausted, and to keep up the supply the miners had to rob the pillars of the mines, which made the mining operations dangerous.

An extract from the books of the Delaware & Hudson company was put in evidence to show that the actual profits of the mines amounted to about 4½ cents a ton.

W. D. Russell, of Scranton, Pa., a former expert accountant of the company, testified that but for the credits to the company's mines for earnings of its teams in other mines the profits would have been under 4 cents per ton.

When the witness later testified that the usual royalty for leasing a mine to be worked was 50 cents per ton for all sizes above pea coal, Mr. McReynolds asked him why, with coal profits less than 5 cents per ton, the mines were not leased instead of being operated by the owners at such a small margin of profit.

"Don't you know the common reports of the mines do not agree with the books; that the books are a lot of stuff and do not show the facts?" queried Mr. McReynolds.

The witness stated that so far as his own books were concerned they were always carefully kept.

COURT HOUSE IMPROVEMENTS.

Will be Enlarged and Remodeled at a Cost of $60,000—Will be Done Without Increasing Taxation.

Acting on the recommendation of the Grand Juries for the past fifteen years, at least twenty of which have urged more ample and convenient accomodations for the juries, witnesses and others attending court, and for the better preservation of the county records, the present Board of Commissioners have decided to enlarge and rearrange the Court House to make it a modern and up to date building.

The vault capacity will be exhausted during the present year and for some time past a large quantity of the records have been stored in the loft. It is a grave question as to whether the record vaults are fireproof, as it has been shown that in cleaning the court room floor above them the water drips through into the vaults, hence, even if they could withstand a fire, the records would probably be greatly damaged by the water.

During the past few years the recommendations of the Grand Juries have embodied the following suggestions, viz: That an addition be added to the rear of the building; that the Grand Jury room be enlarged and a witness room added; that an interior stairway be built in the rear; that the Grand Jury room be moved to the first special floor, that the record vaults be completely fireproofed; that a special room be added for women witnesses and a room for other witnesses, that there be an additional Traverse Jury room; that a room for a law library is greatly needed; that the office rooms and accomodations are cramped and insufficient; that the corridor flooring is rough and unsuitable; that grill work be placed in the offices (especially that of the Treasurer) for privacy and protection, and that the park between the Court House and Jail should be beautified.

Mr. J. R Harris, a son of a former resident of Bellefonte, a member of the firm of Newman and Harris, Architects, of New York and Philadelphia, has submitted a plan in full accordance with the recommendations of the Grand Juries, as above noted, which the Commissioners have decided to accept. This plan contemplates preserving the present structure in its entirety, except for the enlargement and fireproofing of the vaults and some interior adornment contemplated to restore the building to its original colonial symplicity and beauty. An addition will be made to the rear of the building sufficient to contain the needed office rooms and vault space, a large room for the Grand Jury with a witness room attached, offices for the Judge and the District Attorney and a suitable library room. A basement is to be excavated under this addition for a storage room and machinery. A new and permanent roof is to be placed on the building and the present tower or lantern restored to its former lightness and beauty. The second floor in the rear is to be brought out on a level with the ground and a columned entrance made similar to the present front but on a smaller scale. These changes, alterations and additions complete will cost about sixty thousand dollars and for this amount of money the Commissioners feel that Centre County will possess a Court House which will compare favorably with those of the adjoining counties upon which upwards of a quarter of a million dollars have been expended.

Those who have seen the plans are charmed with the architectural effects and the completeness of the interior arrangements, and feel that the well known reputation of the architects will assure the citizens of Centre County a restored and enlarged Court House which will be an object of pride to every one. The further fact that financial arrangements have been made which will enable the Commissioners to complete the alterations without increasing taxation should add to the satisfaction of the taxpayers of the county in the artistic beauty of the contemplated changes.

SUGAR SUIT IS SETTLED

Pennsylvania Co.'s Case Against Trust Ends Abruptly.

$4,000,000 TO BE PAID

Suit For $30,000,000 Was Settled Out of Court After Being on Trial For Two Weeks—How the Trust Closed an Independent Plant.

New York, June 9.—The $30,000,000 suit of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company against the American Sugar Refining company, the so-called trust, was settled out of court. The case had been on trial for two weeks in the United States district court. The terms of the settlement were not made public.

Following the announcement in court of the settlement, it was rumored in financial circles that $4,000,000 was the amount paid by the trust.

The suit was one of those familiar yet complicated legal moves instituted every now and then by a smaller concern against an alleged monopoly, charging in effect that it had been driven out of business. In this case witnesses testified that Adolph Segal, of Philadelphia, controlling power of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company, borrowed from Gustav A. Kissel $1,250,000, for which he gave as security 26,000 shares of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company, together with a voting trust certificate for the same, which was to run until the repayment of the loan.

With the power thus conferred upon him, Kissel, it was alleged, installed himself and three of his clerks as directors of the independent sugar company and, having control of the board of directors, he passed a remarkable resolution which declared that the then almost completed refinery, which is said to be one of the most economical ever built, should not be opened or operated until further order of the board.

That resolution, the plaintiff contended, was drafted by John E. Parsons, acting as counsel for the sugar trust, for whom it showed Gustav A. Kissel, the lender, also was an agent.

Messrs. Kissel, Parsons and the three clerks of the former, Twigg, Robinson and Werner, were made co-defendants with the American Sugar Refining company upon the conspiracy charge, but on motion of a lawyer appearing specifically in behalf of the three clerks, the complaint against them was dismissed.

The settlement must be ratified by the court that appointed George H. Earle, Jr., receiver of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company.

CRAZED MAN SAVED BY WIFE

Tried to Leap From High Window and Fought With Crowd.

Burlington, N. J., June 9.—Suddenly seized with a hallucination that efforts were being made to electrocute him, Charles Ermisch, steward at Turner's hall, Riverside, for nearly an hour fought off a crowd and was only prevented by his wife from ending his life.

Ermisch had torn the bars from the windows and was half way through the sash when his wife seized him by the legs and dragged him back into the hall.

During the struggle between the crazed man and his wife his little daughter ran to the bank building adjoining and sounded a burglar gong, which brought crowds of workmen from nearby mills to the scene. It required the combined strength of almost a dozen men to overpower Ermisch, who was later removed to a Philadelphia hospital.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Mr. Frederick W. Topelt, of Brooklyn Weds Miss Helen Elizabeth Brouse of Bellefonte.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. Stewart Brouse on South Thomas Street, was the scene of a very pretty social event Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock when their only daughter, Miss Helen Elizabeth Brouse was united in holy bonds of wedlock to Mr. Frederick W. Topelt, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Hewitt, rector of St. John's Episcopal church who over a quarter of a century ago united in wedlock the parents of the bride. At the wedding last evening the beautiful ring ceremony was used. Mrs. G. Ross Parker played the wedding march.

The bride looked very beautiful attired in a costome of ivory satin, trimmed with real Princess lace and a veil fastened with orange blossoms. She was attended by Miss Lillian Topelt, sister of the groom as maid of honor.

The groom was attended by Mr. William H. Brouse as best man.

The ceremony was witnessed by about twenty of the immediate relatives of the interested parties. Immediately after the ceremony, Caterer Summers served a delightful wedding dinner. The bride's cake and favors were furnished by Caterer Achenback, of Lock Haven.

The bride and groom departed on the 8:16 train for their home in Brooklyn, N. Y. The bride was the recipient of many gifts including cut glass, china linen and silver,

The Spelling Bee.

About eighty people showed their interest in the new play ground enterprise by attending the Spelling Bee in the Court House Monday evening. Harry Keller, Esq., out spelled all other starthough John Blanchard, Esq., and Prof. Arthur Sloop kept in the race for a long time. The captains were Dr. Platts and W. A. Lyon and they summoned to their assistance the best men and women spellers available. Dr. Platts' side won through Mr. Keller's clever work The judges were Mrs. H. C. Quigly and Miss H.E. Overton. Mr. James R. Hughes gave out the words. About $20.00 were cleared for the Athletic field. Many people in our town evidently can not realize that better bodies means better morals and eventually better lives religiously. Nothing so tends to promote healthy bodies as a fine Athletic field for our boys where they can play tennis base ball, foot ball and indulge in track exercises. We hope they may be educated gradually.

AwardedContract In Secret Session.

All Mt. Carmel is up in arms because the council at that place went into secret session to award a pavement contract Tuesday night and the councilmen have been busy explaining matters ever since. The contract was let to the Coryell Construction Co., of Williamsport, for $23,146.97, although there were two bids of $2,000 and $500 less. The daily papers of that city call attention to the fact that Shamokin councilmen were put to jail for the crooked work some years ago in letting paving contracts and intimate that history might repeat itself.

BLIND SENATOR HITS TARIFF

Gore, of Oklahoma, Makes a Sarcastic Speech.

RAPS RICH COTTEN MEN

Declares the Philanthropic Manufacturers Made Large Profits and Did Not Divide Them on the Square With Their Laborers.

Washington, June 3. — Astonishing the senate by the citation of a long list of cotton and woollen manufacturing companies and giving their earnings, capital stock, surplus, etc., Senator Gore again undertook the task of showing that corporations engaged in the cotton and woollen industries are making very large earnings.

The speech was one that no other senator would have attempted without constant reference to notes, but the blind statesman from Oklahoma found no difficulty in giving offhand the greatest variety of details without the ability to assist his memory in any way.

Referring to the cotton and woollen manufacturers and with a rasping and sinister tone, the Oklahoma Democrat said he did not blame them for their large earnings.

"I know they are intelligent citizens," he said, "judging from their business success and from their selection of United States senators."

He referred in sarcastic language to the statement made by Senator Lodge that some of these large earnings resulted from sales of real estate fortunately acquired many years ago, and said that the stock of the Troy Cotton and Woollen company, of Massachusetts, had been advertised as earning 67 per cent in 1907, without reference to profits from sales of real estate.

He suspected, he said, that "the good-natured, philanthropic manufacturers did not divide their earnings on the square with their laborers."

Senator Nelson followed. "The business interests of the country need not be alarmed, as their appeals to us for prompt action on the tariff indicates, because there will be no downward revision," he declared, after saying the understanding in his state was that the tariff would be lowered.

"The only thing they have to wait for," he continued, "is to see how far they can make up their goods. At least there will be no downward revision that they themselves do not consent to."

The mob formed from every direction of the city within two squares of where Governor Willson slept and a square and a half from the capitol, marched quietly to the jail, overpowered Jailer J. W. WOULD BRING PENN'S BODY HERE

Congressman Palmer Plans to Disinter Remains.

WILL ASK TAFT'S AID

The Remains of the Founder of Pennsylvania Repose In a Practically Abandoned Cemetery In England and Is Not Appropriately Marked.

Washington, June 2. — Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania, who is one of the six members of the house of representatives affiliated with the Friends, is planning a movement to have the United States bring the coffin containing all that is mortal of William Penn to this country and have it interred on the banks of the Delaware.

The suggestion was made to Mr. Palmer recently by a constituent, who is a Friend, and who believes that the time is now opportune for such action. The body of Penn now reposes in a practically abandoned cemetery in Buckinghamshire, England, and considering his distinguished career, is not appropriately marked.

Mr. Palmer contemplates going about the business in a practical way and intends to submit the proposition to the president and ascertain his views, and, if it is possible, get the support of Mr. Taft. It is also his purpose to enlist the aid of Secretary Knox in the movement. The removal of Penn's body will have as a precedent the action taken by this government in disinterring the body of John Paul Jones from a cemetery in Paris and its reburial at Annapolis.

The movement is regarded as opportune at this time in view of the fact that the Friends have a larger representation in congress at this session than they have had in half a century or more. Among those affiliated with them are A. Mitchell Palmer, William S. Greist and Thomas B. Butler, of Pennsylvania; William H. Heald, of Delaware; William O. Barnard, of Indiana, and William W. Cocks, of New York.

3284 LYNCHED IN 25 YEARS

Woman Says Publicity Is Effective Safeguard.

New York, June 2.—That 3284 men, women and children have been lynched in this country in the last quarter of a century was the assertion of Mrs. Ida Wells Barnett at the National Negro Conference in this city.

Mrs. Barnett, who has spent several years in the investigation of lynching in the south and west, proposed that the conference maintain a permanent bureau for investigation, with attendant publicity, of all lynchings. Publicity, she said, was an effective safeguard.

In Memory of Hugh Beaver.

Friday's State College Times says: Beaver day will be observed at Penn State next Sunday morning, at the Auditorium, and in the evening on the front campus. The speaker on both occasions will be Prof. Francis H. Green, a noted orator, who was in close touch with Hugh McAllister Beaver during his college career.

Hugh Beaver lived a well rounded college life. He was keen for every interest of old Penn State. He was the first cheer leader. President Atherton says "neither the heat of the sun nor the chilling storms of autumn, neither mud nor dust nor any other thing could prevent him from appearing upon the scene of every athletic contest, and he entered into it as if there was nothing else in life quite so well worth doing." He was president of the athletic association and was very active in looking up recruits for both the baseball and the football teams and he would visit different parts of the state in the interest of the association.

He took great delight in encouraging the teams. He won a warm place in the hearts of his association and one of its members in transmitting some resolutions later said, "There was no man, in any capacity, who stood nearer to the hearts of the students here than did Hugh." There is a window to his memory in the Beta Theta Pi fraternity house. But his lasting memorial is in the hearts and lives of men and women, college men and women, and railroad men.

Pennsylvania State College is known to the student world through the life of this one student who sought the highest things. "My strength is as the strength of 10, because my heart is pure."

This true Christian athlete practiced what he professed and sought to win Penn State men to Christ. His was a true life, even though he relinquished his life's cares at the age of 24.

Those in charge of the day's exercises are President Sparks; L. B. Lindenmuth, Karl Marsh, H. H. Goodhart, class of 1909; L. F. Verrill, W. R. Mollison, class of 1910; J. E. Watson, J. W. Coughlin, class of 1911; D. S. Minich, W. P. Little, class of 1912; S. W. Thatcher, class of 1913.

Slain In a Quarrel at Home of a Friend

Roger Greenwood was shot through the heart at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sprague, in Nicholson, Wyoming county, at noon Wednesday, the contents of a shotgun entering his heart and causing instant death, in the presence of his wife. Sprague, who did the shooting, surrendered to the authorities, declaring that he shot in self-defense. Mrs. Greenwood upon seeing her husband fall, fainted, and in striking the doorstep was gashed in the head.

The Greenwoods were visitors at the Sprague home Wednesday morning, and there was a merry time for several hours. Then there came strife where peace had been. Sprague says there was an argument over liquor, and that it became heated. Greenwood attacked him, he says, and made threats against him.

The two clashed and were separated by their wives. Then Greenwood started from the house with his wife, threatening to return and have the life of the of Sprague latter says. Whatever happened after Greenwood passed out Sprague refuses to say, declaring that he will tell the whole story of the affair when the proper time comes.

Sprague sent for his lawyer, S. L. Tiffany, and afterward gave himself up to a constable. He has been a stationary engineer at the Shield's stone works at Nicholson for years. Greenwood was employed at the same place.

Questionable Act of Jesting.

Frances Speer, the "That" man on the Centre Democrat, attended the Cole Brother's circus in Bellefonte last week and enjoyed it immensely, according to the following from the Keystone Gazette.

At the circus the other day a man clown, dressed like a woman, sat down on the reserved seats beside Francis Speer. The "woman" had a baby in her arms, and after being comfortably seated, she laid the baby across her lap and opening a little brown satchel, she took therefrom a clean, white napkin and proceeded to fold it into a three cornered shape. That was too much for Francis, and he broke out in a vociferous "boo-hoo," whereupon the "woman" evidently taking offense at Mr. Speer's demonstration, picked up the baby placed the napkin around its neck, and walked away.

The inquiry now is, did Mr. Speer, who is a bachelor, know what these preliminaries presaged; and if he did, was he justified in converting so serious a matter into a mirth-producing proposition?

DOCTOR KILLED BY ROBBER

Suicide Theory in Chicago Mystery Disproved.

WAS FOUND BY DAUGHTER

Physician's Wallet and Watch Are Missing and His Valise Carried From Room—Physician Says He Did Not Shoot Himself.

Chicago, June 4.—Evidence supporting the theory that Dr. John T. Binkley, Sr., of Evansville, Ind., met his death at the Wellington hotel at the hands of a robber was adduced at the coroner's inquest. The evidence weakened the theory of suicide.

The testimony showed that Dr. Binkley was eighty-two years old. Save for a left hand crippled with rheumatism his health was good. With other members of his family he came to Chicago Wednesday and remained in his room while the others went on a shopping tour.

When his daughter, Mrs. George Upchurch, returned about 5 p. m. with her daughter Elinor, they found the shades drawn and the old physician dead in an easy chair.

A bullet had entered his left cheek and lodged in his brain, inflicting a wound from which, it is said, death must have been instantaneous. His coat and vest were found open and his wallet missing, as was his watch.

His valise, which had been on his knees when his daughter left him, was found in a public toilet room twenty yards from the room.

The coroner's physician, Dr. Joseph Springer, said:

"From the crippled condition of his left hand I should say he had not fired from that hand, and the position of the wound would indicate that the right hand was not used."

Thomas Moran, a porter at the hotel, spoiled a sensation when he took the stand. Miss Upchurch had testified that she was sure her grandfather had been murdered, because as she fled from the room with her mother, following the discovery of the body, she was seized by some one who attempted to detain her.

Moran explained that he was the person in question, and that he had restrained the women because of their hysterical condition and to separate them from the crowd already gathering in the hall.

Cherries Rotting on the Trees.

A number of inquiries were received lately by the Division of Zoology of the Penna. Department of Agriculture for a formula for a spraying mixture to be used on peach, plum and cherry trees to keep the fruit from rotting. The answer of Prof. H. A. Surface, the State Zoologist, is as follows:

"The ripe rot or brown rot is due to a fungous disease, which attacks the ripening fruit of peach, plum and cherry trees, and is to be prevented by spraying before or about the time the fruit is half grown with the self-boiled lime-sulfur wash. Into a barrel put eight pounds of fresh lime or quick lime and eight pounds of sulfur, and into this pour four or five gallons of hot water, and cover it with a cloth to keep in the heat. Stir occasionally with a hoe or something to keep it from burning to the bottom and to keep it from settling too much. Let it remain an hour. Then dilute it to fifty gallons, and spray it over the trees. Cold water should be used for diluting. Repeat this after a hard rain, or if it does not rain repeat in a week or two, and continue until just before the fruit commences to ripen, when there is no need to continue the spraying because to spray it on ripening fruit means to discolor the fruit and thus render it unmarketable, although it will not be poisonous, and will not be unfit for use, even though it should be stained by the spray liquid.

This self-boiled lime-sulfur wash is not recommended for scale insects, and it is not to be replaced by the concentrated lime-sulfur solutions now on the market nor by the home-boiled wash which we recommend as the best and cheapest material for treating scale insects. It is a different preparation, made by a different formula and method, and these materials should not be confused.

Lured to Sunbury.

The Sunbury Item says: The authorities in this place and several others parties who were interested, were searching for a young girl on Thursday who was discovered sleeping on a bench in Cameron Park Wednesday night, and who told a very pitiable story. Several passing through the park about midnight discovered the girl and between heart-broken sobs she told her story, that she had been lured to Sunbury by a man who does not reside here, and the fellow then abandoned her and left town without providing for her or making any arrangements for her return home. The manner in which the girl acted was conclusive proof that she had been the innocent victim of some cruel hearted wretch and the girl's pitiable plight was reported to Mrs. W. H. MacDonald, of Center street, who is ever ready to lend a helping hand in charitable deeds and acts of kindness for those in distress who are worthy of help. Mrs. MacDonald reported the case to the authorities and instituted a search for the girl on Thursday morning, but up to noon nothing of her whereabouts had been learned and the search was still being continued.

A Straight-Out Transaction.

If a member of your family died, would you print the resolutions on a bill board?

If your wife entertained, would you send an account of it to the theatre program man?

If you were going to enlarge your business, would you advertise it in a hotel register?

If you were going to have a wedding in your family would you get out a bandbill?

Neatly and clearly, says The Wheeling News, the above quotation from a Western journal shows the difference in value between newspaper and other forms of advertising mentioned. If the newspaper is the best medium for the dissemination of news, it also affords the best facilities for distributing information as to your wants or as to the merits of the goods you may have to sell. Moreover, you are never appealed to in the name of "charity" to advertise in a newspaper. It is not a case of charity, and only indirectly a manifestation of public spirit; it is a straight-out commercial transaction, an investment.

The Editor's Compensation.

The man who edits the average country newspaper cannot well avoid treading on somebody's toes continually; must expect to be censured often for unintentional failure; must expect hard work and little thanks; must expect to be called a coward because he does not "pitch into" everything that somebody thinks is wrong and a fool if he speaks out too plainly on public evils. He must expect to grind other people's axes and turn the grindstone himself. Still, we think it is one of the noblest professions on earth, the one in which the earnest man can do the most good to his fellow man and in which an honorable man can wield much power for good.

LAFOLLETTE SLAMS PENROSE

Wisconsin Man Hurls Taunts Back at Pennsylvanian.

SAYS HE WAS NOT ILL

Lafollette Declared No One Could Account For Senator Penrose's Whereabouts When Absent From Senate Without Breaking the Rules.

Washington, June 5.—The personal controversy between Senator Penrose and Senator Lafollette on the floor of the senate was renewed by the Wisconsin senator.

At Thursday night's session Senator Penrose charged that Lafollette, who was absent, was only feigning illness, and that he was in a position to prove his statements. Lafollette opened fire immediately after the senate convened and had not proceeded far before he touched upon the Penrose incident.

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE.

Mr. Lafollette said he had not been sick, but after holding the floor over five hours did not feel in condition to continue at night and had remained at home to rest.

He called attention to the fact that there were other senators who might have spoken, including Mr. Aldrich, who had promised an explanation of the cotton schedule. Turning towards Mr. Aldrich, Senator Lafollette remarked that the senator "stood upon this floor as any other senator."

"He forgets it sometimes," he added. Then he turned to Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, who sat in his place on the opposite side of the chamber facing him.

Advice For Penrose.

"As to the remarks of the senator from Pennsylvania," he said, "I would suggest that he would render a very important service to the country and to his state if he would account for the way he spends his time when absent from this body than in any effort to make an account for my time."

Sitting upright and leaning forward, Mr. Penrose gave close attention to every word of the senator from Wisconsin. The possibility of a severe clash between the two senators caused their colleagues on both sides of the chamber to shift their eyes from one to the other. The galleries were crowded and the intense stillness seemed to presage on the part of the audience that a scene was to be enacted.

"I might add," continued the senator from Wisconsin, "that no man could undertake to account for the whereabouts of the senator from Pennsylvania without transgressing the rules of the senate, and I do not."

Penrose Interrupts.

Mr. Penrose, interrupting, referred to an article in a magazine published by the senator from Wisconsin as misrepresenting himself and Pennsylvania. Reading the article complained of, Mr. Penrose was promptly answered by Mr. Lafollette, who said the statements were taken from newspapers, and when denied by the publications were promptly withdrawn by his own magazine.

Mr. Penrose asked to be referred to the denial and was assured that he would be furnished with the magazine containing it.

KILLS HERSELF AND CHILDREN FOR SHAME

Found Dead in Gas Filled Room After Husband's Arrest.

St. Louis, Mo., June 7. — Twelve hours after her husband, John Glaesser, had been taken from home by the police under the charge of embezzling $275, Mrs. Martha Glaesser was found dead in bed by the side of the dead bodies of her children, Arnette, eight year old, and John, Jr., five years old. The room was filled with gas, and the police advance the theory that the mother closed the room and turned on the gas. Nicholas Glaesser, a brother, broke into the room and discovered the lifeless forms. All were in night robes. It is supposed that the arrest of her husband preyed on Mrs. Glaesser's mind, driving her insane.

Glaesser was released and the cigar company which caused his arrest said there would be no prosecution, as Glaesser had been punished severely already.

SAYS GERMANY WAS INSULTED

Senator Stone Rebukes Aldrich in Speech.

"IMPERTINENCE," HE CRIES

Alleged Foreign Meddling In Our Tariff Led to Long Wrangle, and Missouri Senator Resented Charge That He Was Acting as a Representative of Germany.

Washington, June 4. — The senate was not in an amiable state of mind, and as a consequence there were several clashes of temper. The day was begun with a speech by Senator Stone, of Missouri, in which he asserted that the German officials had taken exception to remarks recently made by Senator Aldrich relative to the wage statement supplied by the German government at the request of the American secretary of state. Mr. Aldrich had characterized as "impertinent" the effort which he claimed had been made in that statement to influence American tariff legislation, and Mr. Stone undertook to show that the epithet had been applied to the German government. Mr. Aldrich resented this implication, but he repeatedly said that the German manufacturers had undertaken to influence the course of the tariff bill, and he charged that in so doing they had been guilty of impertinence.

Retraction "Sugar Coated."

During the course of his remarks, Mr. Aldrich intimated that Mr. Stone was acting as a representative of Germany, and this remark aroused the anger of the Missourian. Declaring his right to speak his mind as an American senator, he said that the use of the expression was a "gross impertinence." Ultimately Mr. Aldrich paid a high compliment to the German people and their emperor, and the incident closed for the day, with the statement by Mr. Stone that while Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Depew, who had also been involved in the controversy, had not made a straightforward retraction as he had believed they should, they had so "sugar coated" the dose as to relieve it of its bitter taste.

Following the Aldrich-Stone episode, Senator LaFollette resumed his speech in opposition to the cotton schedule, which proved to be a general criticism of the methods of the finance committee. He asserted that the German wage report had, contrary to a statement by Mr. Aldrich, reached the committee before the tariff bill was reported to the senate, and he charged the committee with general neglect in withholding information from the senate. He opposed the new cotton duties as excessive and made an argument in favor of a general scaling down.

The Wisconsin senator referred to the interests of consumers in the tariff bill. "Oh!" he ejaculated, rising to his full height, and drawing his features in tense fashion, "Senators may smirk when I refer to the consumers."

MORALS OF THE STAGE.

From New York comes the announcement that a play which in its earlier presentation in Philadelphia had excited the unanimous verdict of newspaper critics that it was unfit to be presented on the public stage, has been withdrawn after a single presentation in the Metropolis.

Most significant is the statement that one reason which prompted the permanent retirement of this salacious production was the fact that it met with a "frost" in the matter of patronage.

It has been invariably contended in justification of the presentation of plays of questionable morality and decency, says the Harrisburg Telegraph, that a large element of the theater-going public wanted such stuff, and that the management was helpless against the insistent demand of patrons.

The incident of "The Narrow Path" gives the lie to such a contention, and this is emphasized by the fact that the bulk of notably successful plays of recent years have been built on clean and wholesome lines. The comparatively few "big hits" of the other sort have in most instances won popular support because of some genuinely superior literary or dramatic quality capable of attracting the public despite their audacious wickedness.

There is no reasonable excuse for indecency on the stage, and it is encouraging to note that the managers who have thought otherwise are being impressed through the box office with to extent to which they have misjudged the theater-going public of today.

THE Follies of 1909' may not apply to misfit local legislators, but nevertheless every citizen ought to see just what it does mean.

In the enjoyment of their vacation school boys should remember that all play and no work is not conductive to an industrious life.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS.

The sentiment in favor of postal savings bank has been discussed so much in this country that it is interesting to note the result of the expert men in Germany. Consul Thomas H. Norton, of Chemnitz, in reporting that the system of carrying accounts in a post office and drawing checks upon the same was introduced in the German postal system on January 1st 1909, reviews the initial success which it has already attained.

This assumption by the postal department of one of the functions of banking does not seem to have awakened the opposition of bankers and it certainly has met the stamp of popular approval as evidenced by the result of the first month's business.

At present bank accounts are kept in only a few large post offices, each of which meets the wants of an extensive territory. At the close of January the number of such accounts in the Berlin post office was 3,479; Leipzig, 2,877; at Cologne, 2,872; etc. The total number of accounts opened during the first month was 16,210. Deposits during the month were (in round numbers) $20,000,000, of which sum $6,000,000 was in the form of postal checks, transferred from one account to another out of $15,000,000, total value of checks drawn. Of the remaining $9,000,000, the sum of $4,000,000 was paid in cash, the remainder by postal orders to other offices. At the close of January over $4,000,000 was on deposit in postal banking accounts.

THE Harrisburg Telegraph announces that State Treasurer Sheatz is preparing to begin payment of the $7,500,000 school appropriation, which serves to call attention again to the liberal policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania toward the public schools of the State. While other expenses of the State have necessarily grown with the enlarging business of the government, the increase in appropriations to the schools of the people have more than kept pace with the advances in various directions.

It will be three years before the meeting of the next Democratic National convention, but already leaders of the party are taking steps to head off the drift to Bryan. The burden is a heavy one for the Democracy, but there is consolation for the country in knowing that it takes only one day for the Republican party to defeat the perpetual candidate.

Death of O. P. Jones.

Saturday's Philipsburg Journal contains the following:

A telegram was received here today conveying the sad announcement of the death of Mrs. Annie V. Jones, widow of O. Perry Jones, deceased, formerly of this place, which occured this morning at her home in Atlantic City.

While she was known not to have been in good health for some time, her death came as a great shock to her many friends here where she had so long resided and where she was so highly esteemed.

Besides her daughter, Miss Margaretha, she is survived by one brother and two sisters, viz: Prof. George Mull, of Frankin and Marshal College, Lancaster; Mrs. C. N. Seidle, of Lebanon, and Miss Margaret E. Mull, of Atlantic City.

The deceased had long been a devoted member of the Episcopal church, and possessed a modest, unassuming and beautiful type of character.

The body will be brought here Monday morning, and buried in the new cemetery. The services in charge of Rev. F. T. Eastment, will be private.

Smoking No Sin.

"I smoke and I'll not give it up Such actions do more harm than good." That was the statement made Monday evening the anti-tobacco resolution adopted at the recent Presbyterian general assembly by Dr. A. B. Meldrum, pastor of the old stone church, Cleveland's most prominent Presbyterian church.

"The assembly had too much to do to waste time on such matters," he said. "There is always some one who seeks notoriety by such resolutions. The use of tobacco is a matter of individual conscience. I will not bring the matter before my congregation. The members are entitled to their own opinion in the matter. It is no sin to smoke. I use tobacco and will continue to do so."

Sad Death at Howard.

The neighboring town of Howard was overshadowed with gloom Friday evening when it was learned that Mrs. Sarah E. Hensyl had passed to her reward. Death was due to acute intestinal abstruction, her illness covering a period of about three years. On Thursday she underwent an operation but the disease had done its work and at 4:60 o'clock Friday afternoon her spirit took its flight.

Sarah Elizabeth Hensyl was the daughter of Rev. Wm. and Mrs. Lydia Heim, of Millersburg, Pa., and was born at Lebanon October 15th, 1849, being aged 59 years, 8 months and 19 days. On May 26th 1868, she was united in marriage at Harrisburg to L. R. Hensyl, an ambitious young physician of Howard and aided him in building up an extensive practice. On January 1st 1900, her life was saddened by the death of her husband.

Deceased was a member of the United Evangelical church and a kind-hearted, noble, christian woman whose character was above reproach. She lived and died "with malice toward none, with charity for all," and great will be her reward for her ministry among the sick and needy. During her long residence in Howard she was always actively associated in all departments of church work, ever ready to lend a hand for the advancement of her Master's kingdom. Her great pride was in the Sunday school, in which she taught the women's Bible class for many years, and the training of the children for the Christmas, Easter and children's day services was always intrusted to her. She was well known and loved by everybody and her death is greatly mourned by the many person to whom she had endeared herself by her kind and cheerful disposition.

She is survived by five children, as follows: Mrs. Wm. Weber and Mrs. Dr. W. J. Kurtz, of Howard; Miss Louise L. Hensyl, of New York; Dr. Wm. C. Hensyl, of Berwick, and Dr. George E. Hensyl, of Philadelphia. Her death was particularly sad to the last named son as it occurred on the day of his graduation from the Jefferson Medical college with the highest honors in the class.

The funeral took place Monday afternoon, June 7, services being conducted in the United Evangelical church by Rev. J. W. Messenger, a former pastor. The remains were laid to rest in the family vault in the Schenck cemetery.

Dedication of the Odd Fellows Orphanage.

Many important celebrations and events are scheduled to take place in and around Sunbury during the month of June, but none of them is exciting more interest than the dedication of the Odd Fellows' new orphanage on June 17th.

The programme has been about completed and the indications are that it will be a truly big day. According to the arrangements an address will be delivered by J. S. Montgomery, grand master; the Rev. B. H. Hart, past grand master; J. H. Wagner, head of the orphanage association; Mrs. Hattie Mandell, president of the Rebekah State Assembly and others.

A number of Grand Lodge Odd Fellows will be present.

One hundred of the young inmates of the orphanage will sing and the cantons will drill. If the weather is fair, between 5,000 and 10,000 persons are expected to be present. Excursion trains will run from all parts of Central Pennsylvania.

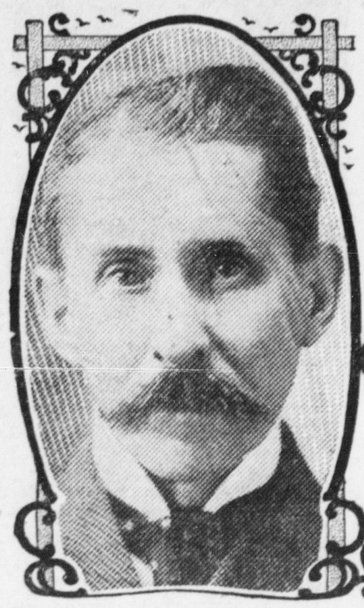
CATARRH DESTROYED MY APPETITE.



PERUNA rarely fails to restore the appetite. Immediately upon beginning the use of Peruna patients begin to eat and digest. This is the universal testimony, coming from all parts of the civilized world.

Catarrh is a very frequent cause of loss of appetite and disturbed digestion. The beneficial influence of Peruna on catarrh completely restores the appetite in such cases.

To prod the digestive organs with medicines that are merely stimulants is a poor way to remedy such cases.

"I am now cured and cheerful in spirits, all through the agency of Peruna, which has cured me effectually and restored my appetite.

"My only regret is that I did not use Peruna sooner and I would have avoided all my previous suffering and misery."

—Mr. Joseph H. Conlan.

Removed Catarrh, Restored Appetite.

Mr. Joseph H. Conlan, 487 7th Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I suffered from catarrh which completely destroyed my appetite and weakened my entire system.

"I am now cured and cheerful in spirits, all through the agency of Peruna, which has cured me effectually and restored my appetite.

"My only regret is that I did not use Peruna sooner and I would have avoided all my previous suffering and misery."

Torpid Liver, Stomach Trouble.

Mr. James O'Byrne, 626 Madison St., Topeka, Kas., conductor Sante Fe Railway and member Order of Railway Conductors, writes:

"I suffered with a torpid liver and stomach trouble, which made my complexion very sallow, and I felt miserable and tired all the time.

"An aunt wrote me that she was taking Peruna with such good results that she advised me to try it, and I finally bought a bottle, although I disliked to take patent medicines.

"However, I found Peruna very agreeable to take, and effective, as I felt better in a week. I took only five bottles in all and I found that was all I needed.

"I am most grateful to you for what your medicine has done for me."

Dysentery Entirely Relieved.

Mr. W. N. Casey, Leamington, Ill., writes:

"In two weeks after beginning your treatment I was well. I used nine bottles of Peruna. My case was bowel trouble or dysentery.

"I also tried Peruna for a cough, according to directions, and it exceeds any cough syrup I ever used.

"I wish every one afflicted would give Peruna a trial."

Pe-ru-na as a Tonic.

Capt. R. B. Smith, Greensboro, Ga., writes:

"After using several bottles of Peruna I can recommend it as one of the best catarrh medicines on the market. As a tonic it has no equal.

"Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

Catarrh of Stomach.

Mr. Henry Neely, First Lieutenant, Co. "F," 86th Regiment, O. V. I., Box 623, Trenton, Mo., writes: "I suffered for years with catarrh of the stomach. Seeing an advertisement of Peruna, I bought a bottle and every dose made me feel better. Seven bottles completely cured me."

Will Get More Pay.

Assessors and constables in Penns. will receive increased fees under an act of assembly passed at the recent session. Constables will receive $2.50 instead of $1.50 for attendance at court and making returns there to, and fifteen cents each for serving notices of election upon election officers. They had been receiving ten cents. The county assessors, by reason of the signing by Gov. Stuart of a bill passed by the Legislature, will hereafter receive $2.50 per day instead of $2, the former pay. By the new law the assessors come under state jurisdiction instead of that of the counties.

Gen. Beaver at Tyrone.

The Memorial Day exercises at Tyrone were held on Monday afternoon and evening and Gen. James A. Beaver was the orator of the day. In speaking of his address the Tyrone Herald says. On Monday afternoon almost the entire populace and many from the country districts turned out to honor the old soldiers and assist them in their exercises. At 2:15 o'clock General James A. Beaver, of Bellefonte, arrived and was met at the station by a reception committee composed of veterans and members of the Blair county bar. As he was being escorted to his carriage by Sheridan Troop, which had formed in line along the avenue, presented sabres and this compliment immediately drew the attention of the General who doffed his hat and for several minutes inspected our splendid body of National Guard soldiers. The General was escorted to his place in the line of march.

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock the Academy of Music was crowded with an enthusiastic audience of men, women and children to hear General James A. Beaver, the orator of the day. His address was magnificent and was listened to with rapt attention by all as it was replete in anecdotes, apt in illustration and eloquent in delivery. General Beaver was delighted with the singing by the one hundred little folks who sang heartily the old songs that were dear to his and every old soldier's heart in that large audience.

Howard.

The primary election passed off quietly here on Saturday and came near passing unobserved. The election official almost forgot that Saturday afternoon was the time and the constable had to do some hustling to get the booths up while other officials were hunting for the ballot box which could not be located for some time. Finally everything was got in readiness and the election went on just the same, only a light vote being polled as there were no hustling candidates in the field to infuse the local voters with political enthusiasm. Some of the "big" offices ought to reserved for "off years" to keep up the interest.

The recent rains proved quite a benefit to the growing crops and will greatly increase their value by harvest time. The corn in particular was in need of moisture now that that the warm weather has come.

The local sports are deriving a great deal of pleasure at present shooting carp in the Bald Eagle creek as they lay basking in the warm sunshine and clear water while in that position they are stunned by the rifle ball and easily captured. Some nice sized ones have been landed in that manner this spring, but it is not always an easy matter to get a shot at one of them. The carp is not a native of this creek, but escaped a few years ago from the old furnace dam where they had been placed by the late Bernard Lauth for private fishing purposes. They are very destructive to some of the smaller species of fish.

The sunday school of the Christian church observed children's day in a very appropriate manner Sunday evening. The commodious chapel was packed with those who had turned out to hear the children on this annual event. Careful and thorough training on the part of those who had the children in charge brought them up to a high standard of efficiency and the service was greatly to be appreciated in every respect. Next Sunday evening similar services will be held in both the Methodist and Reformed churches.

As was the intention when these items were written last week Miss Ada Bowes was not taken to the hospital, and is improved from her illness.

MANY BIDS OPENED.

For Electrical Plant—No Contract has Been Awarded Up to This Time.

For the last six weeks much interest has been manifested in the proposed municipal electrical plant. A large proposition like this is soon heralded all over the country until every electrical firm from ocean to ocean and from the gulf to the lakes, hears of it. The result is they send representatives with the idea of getting some of the trimmings in the shape of contracts. No less than 40 agents have been here, as high as five in a day, all hungry for the job. The councilmen have been besieged and cornered so often, both by day and by night, until some of them are thinking about purchasing an airship for the purpose of getting some rest.

On Tuesday afternoon some twelve or fifteen bids were opened. They contained bids for furnishing the water wheels, another for an electrical pump and others for making the dam and other excavations. There were only three bids for the erection of the entire plant, ready to be operated. The lowest was $35,000, the next $42,000 and the last was $66,000. It can be seen that the bids were so radically different, and far apart, that the borough fathers were not justified in awarding the contract until they made a further investigation. An engineer is now figuring as to what the work can be done for by giving it out in pieces, according to the bids received. They want to go mighty slow and see that they are not bumbogued. There is a large amount of money to be expended and every precaution should be taken in order to get the right thing at the right price. During a week or so, Mr. Harris, of Pittsburg, representing the Westinghouse people, had a demonstrating lamp back of the court house which attracted a large number of people. He claimed that it consumed about half the amount of electricity the present street lamps are doing and makes a brighter light. The lamp is a good one if it doesn't lose any of its force after it has been used awhile.

Pennington Memorial

CENTRE HALL, PA., May 24, '09.

To the descendants of the Penningtons, friends of the deceased entombed in the Pennington cemetery, and friends of the Methodist church:

It was agreed at an informal conference of those interested in remodeling the Pennington cemetery to hold Memorial Services Wednesday, June 23rd, 1909, to which the friends and all those interested are hereby cordially invited.

Hon. Leonard Rhone, of Centre Hall, was appointed to superintend the work of improvement and arrange for suitable memorial services and announce the same when the work was completed.

Funds needed to do the necessary work were pledged with the understanding that all having friends buried there and others interested who may wish to aid in preserving this "Land Mark" of Methodism in Penns Valley, be given the opportunity.

A program will be arranged with suitable historic addresses and music for the day, which will be duly announced.

We hope all our friends will be able to arrange to be with us. Come and let us spend the day in pleasant remembrance of our departed friends and obey the injunction of Holy Writ: "Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."

Captured 47 Years Ago.

The Rev. John Hewitt, who delivered the memorial address to the veterans at Pine Grove Mills last Saturday, is an ex-confederate, having been a member of the Fourth Georgia regiment. He and Capt. W. H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mills, enlisted on the same month, day and year, although on opposite sides, and are of the same age. Mr. Hewitt was captured twice by Capt. Fry. Once during the war when he was taken prisoner at Fort Beauregard, and again for last Saturday's memorial address.

The first application of ManZan, the great Pile remedy, will almost instantly give relief. Continued use of ManZan for a few days will effect a cure. The tube in which it is put up has a small nozzle attached, so that there is no inconvenience whatever. ManZan is for the cure of any kind of Piles. It is sold here by C. M. Parrish.

Summer coughs and colds are obstinate and difficult to cure. The most prompt method is to take something pleasant which will gently move the bowels; a good laxative cough syrup. Bees Laxative Cough Syrup will surely and promptly cure your cold. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

June 13th, 1909.

Heroes of faith. Heb. xi 1-50.

Golden Text—Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. Heb. xi:1,

Verses 1-3—In what respects are faith and hope similar.

If a desirable thing is possessed by faith, does that give as much, or similar, satisfaction, as the possession of the thing itself?

What is the ground of our faith, that "the worlds were framed by the word of God"?

Why do we admire the men of faith of past years?

Verses 4, 5—Abel had a truly religious nature; now was the nature the result of his faith, or was his faith the result of his nature?

Does this record mean that Enoch's translation was directly caused by a specific act of faith, or that his general life of faith made him such a good man that God translated him without death?

Verse 6—Faith is sometimes based upon outward evidence, sometimes upon personal revelation; sometimes upon intuition, and sometimes composite grounds; what moral or spiritual qualities, therefore, are necessary for becoming a man of faith? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Why is faith necessary in order to please God?

Verse 7—What was Noah's faith based upon, and wherein was his faith meritorious?

Verses 8-12—What was the difference, if any, between Abraham's faith and that of the Pilgrim Fathers, when they left the old country for the American land of promise?

I take it that Abraham, and the Pilgrim fathers, while in communion whith God, felt a drawing to go to the rich country in the distance about which they took this drawing to be the voice of God and in this faith they started out; what evidence is there that their faith was true, and that such faith is always dependable?

Verses 13-16—Why is it that all nations and peoples, in all time, so far as we have any record, believe in, and desire a better country, that is an heavenly"?

Verses 17-19—Give from memory the account of Abraham offering up his son Isaac.

What is the particular virtue in Abraham obeying God in the matter of offering up Isaac?

Would it be a virtue or a vice in these days, if any man should do the same thing as Abraham did?

Verses 20-31—Suppose the persons mentioned in these wonderful verses—Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Moses and Rahab, had been lacking faith in God in these critical momements of their lives, what would have been the difference in the results?

Does faith in God always make the present happy, and picture in glowing colors the future?

Verses 32-40—Have men distinguised for their faith always been noted for their goodness?

This is a thrilling account of the exploits of the man of faith; give me an account of the achievements of men noted for their lack of faith.

The profit of a gold mine depends, not on the amount of rock crushed under the stamps but upon the amount of gold which can be extracted from the rock. In a similar way the value of food which is eaten does not depend on the quantity which is taken into the stomach but upon the amount of nourishment extracted from it by the organs of nutrition and digestion. When these organs are diseased they fail to extract the nourishment in sufficient quantities to supply the needs of the several organs of the body, and these organs cannot work without nourishment. The result is heart "trouble" liver "trouble" and many another ailment. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acting on every organ of the digestive and nutritive system, restores it to health and vigor. It cures diseases remote from the stomach through the stomach in which they originated. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

Lad Hurt by Peculiar Explosion.

Monday's Bradfork Era says that Frank Story, the 11-year old son of Charles Story, living in Bradford, was injured seriously, and in a peculiar manner Sunday afternoon. The little fellow was playing around an old glycerine wagon. He had a hammer and struck the tongue of the vehicle a sharp blow. Immediately there was an explosion and the lad's hands and face were badly torn and lacerated. It is believed that in the wagon tongue there was a small quantity of nitro-glycerine and this was the substance that caused the boy's painful injuries.

COL. A. K. M'CLURE PASSES AWAY

Veteran Editor Was 81 Years of Age.

THE END CAME SUDDENLY

Felt Himself Growing Weaker While Sitting on the Porch of His Home and Died Shortly After Being Assisted Into the House — Formerly Wielded Powerful Influence as Editor and Politician.

Philadelphia, June 7.—Colonel Alexander K. McClure, prothonotary of the supreme and superior courts of Pennsylvania and for many years a prominent figure in politics and journalism, died at his home in Wallingford, Delaware county, aged eighty-one years.

He had been suffering from infirmities due to his advanced years, and Sunday was the first time in more than a week that he felt able to leave his room. In company with his brother-in-law, Alfred Gratz, he sat on the porch of his home for a short time. Feeling himself growing weaker, he asked to be assisted to a lounge in the parlor. He died shortly after he had been assisted into the house.

Was an Editor at 19.

Born in Perry county, Pa., in 1828, Colonel McClure showed a marked aptitude for journalism and politics. His father, who was a farmer, had apprenticed him to a tanner. He spent considerable time around the local newspaper office, and when he was only nineteen years old became the editor of the Juniata Sentinel, a Whig organ, which had just been started. Before he was twenty-one years old he was a conferee in a congressional meeting in the interests of Andrew G. Curtin. He rendered good service on the stump and in his paper to W. F. Johnson, the Whig nominee for governor. The latter appointed him on his staff, the day McClure became twenty-one years of age. In 1850 he was appointed Deputy United States marshal for Juniata county.

He was later presented with a half interest in the Chambersburg Repository and moved to Chambersburg, where he took charge of the paper and became active in politics. When he was only twenty-five years old he was nominated for auditor general by the Whigs, but was defeated after a spirited contest. He was a delegate to the Fremont convention and made a brilliant canvass in the interest of the first Republican candidate for president.

Stampeded Convention For Lincoln.

He was twice elected state representative from Franklin county, and in 1860 was sent to the state senate from that district. A member of the Republican convention which nominated Lincoln in 1860, McClure was the one who suggested that the Pennsylvania delegates should break away from Cameron and vote for Lincoln. This was done and Lincoln's name stampeded the convention, although Seward had been the choice of more than two-thirds of the delegates.

When the Civil War broke out McClure was a leader in the state senate and urged vigorous action. He was chairman of the committee on military affairs and was closely identified with the war policy of Governor Curtin. He formed close relations with President Lincoln and his cabinet and played a broad hand in national politics. As adjutant general he superintended the drafting of Pennsylvania's troops.

Established Philadelphia Times.

In the meantime he had studied law and came to Philadelphia, where he practiced that profession for four years. In 1872 he became a leader in the Greely movement and was elected to the state senate on an independent ticket. In 1873 he was defeated for the office of mayor of Philadelphia by a small majority after a bitter contest. With the late Frank McLaughlin he established the Times and for years wielded a trenchant editorial pen. One of his greatest battles was a crusade against the "Dandy Mayor" William B. Smith. M. Smith, who sued him for damages and recovered a verdict, testified that Colonel McClure had said to him, "I will drive you out of politics, and I will drive you out of town." Mr. Smith did drop out of politics. After advancing years had caused him to give up his editorial labors he busied himself with writing his reminiscences and in revising several of his earlier works. In 1903 he was appointed prothonotary of the supreme and superior courts of the state.

Philadelphia Brewer Dead.

Philadelphia, June 7. — Peter A. Schemm, the only son of the late Peter Schemm, the well known brewer, who committed suicide several years ago by jumping over Niagara Falls, died at his home in this city. He had been a sufferer from stomach trouble for some time and recently underwent an operation.

Invited Anachists; Asked to Resign.

Orange, N. J., June 7.—Because he invited Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, anarchists, to a luncheon recently given by the exclusive Mayflower Descendants' society, Alden Freeman, of this place, has been asked to resign from the Orange chapter, Sons of the American Revolution.

A Significant Fact

No other medicine for woman's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of its several ingredients by scores of leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration? Is it not a significant fact too that

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the only medicine sold through druggists, for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ills, the makers of which are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper? Is this not worthy of your consideration if you are a poor sick invalid woman?

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts, for it contains no alcohol, narcotics, harmful, or habit-forming drugs, and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famed medicine is advised.

A booklet of ingredients, with numerous authorative professional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

It's foolish—often dangerous to accept a substitute of unknown composition in place of this time-tried medicine of known composition. Don't do it. Insist on getting what you ask for.

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there is feverishness, night or day. Herein probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 5c boxes for the pocket, also in 25c boxes of 48 Preventics. Insist on your druggists giving you

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it. Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it.

Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only a partial digester—and physics are not digesters at all.

Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tubes in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do.

Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well. Just as simple as A, B, C.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say, that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2½ times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, "faint," sour "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

In Sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart or Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by J. Zeller & Son.

BATTLED IN VAIN TO SAVE WIFE

Desperate Struggle on Brink of Niagara to Prevent Suicide.

SHE DIED IN HIS ARMS

Wife Leaped Into the Swirling River and Husband Followed, Caught Her and Struggled Nearly an Hour to Save Her.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 7.—Aaron Cohen, of Buffalo, saw his young wife leap into the swirling river between the second and third Sisters islands, only 150 feet above the brink of the cataract. Without a moment's hesitation he followed her, caught her hand and struggled desperately to save her.

Mrs. Cohen probably died in her husband's arms. Before it was possible to bring efficient help an hour had passed, during all of which Cohen was making frantic efforts to reach the shore. But the struggle against the current—at this point it is about twenty miles an hour—was beyond merely human muscle. Fortune aided him. With his wife tightly clasped to him he felt himself bump into a grounded tree stump, and on this he got a grip with his one free hand. He lustily shouted for help and word was carried to the reservation police, but it was nearly an hour after Mrs. Cohen jumped into the river that Officer James Martin arrived with ropes and four other men.

Three times they threw the rope before it fell within Cohen's grasp. When he did catch it he was too weak to tie it about his own and his wife's waist.

Once Cohen had hold of the rope and the men on shore began to pull, and Officer Martin, who was in the front, slipped and fell into the stream, but quickly regained his feet. When within fifteen feet of the shore Cohen lost his grip on his wife's body and it was carried off down stream and was lost to view.

Cohen was so far gone when the rescuers got him on shore that he could not speak for ten minutes. His first words were: "She is out there. Go and get her. She is dead. She died in my arms."

Meanwhile a crowd had gathered. Cohen joined in the search, always insisting that the body must have stopped short of the cataract and might be rescued by men daring enough.

William Barnet and Hugh Brown, who had joined the searchers, finally spied the body. It was held fast by a rock, about 100 feet above the brink. Without ropes, Brown and Barnet waded out into the stream, and, moving carefully over the slippery rocks, reached the body. Just as Brown touched the body the current caught it again and it whirled around in an eddy. It was with the greatest difficulty that the two men brought the body to land. Life was quite extinct.

Cohen says that worry over the fact that she was unable to suckle her infant depressed his wife greatly and probably caused her desire for death. He, a robust man, quickly recovered from the shock of his experience.

CATCHES REJECTED LOVER BY WIRE

Girl After Rejecting Persistent Suitor Relents in Time.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 4. — Miss Helen Dulsky, a pretty Russian girl, of this city, who has refused to marry Joseph Zwalina several times this year in order to test him, nearly lost him. Only a telegram rushed to a White Star liner caught him in time. On Monday, she said, to tease him, as she had done many times before when he asked her to marry him:

"No, but perhaps next time I'll say yes."

"All right," he replied, "then I'll go to Russia and get a wife."

Not until Thursday, when, after searching for and failing to find him, did she learn he had bought a ticket for Russia. Then she realized that he meant his threat. She went in tears to the steamship agent and he, by wiring to the White Star company a telegram dictated by the girl, saying she would marry him if he came back, caught Zwalina as he was about to sail. He is now coming back here.

POLISH MINER BRUTALLY SLAIN

Body Found on Railroad Tracks in West Scranton.

MOTIVE OF CRIME UNKNOWN

Victim's Skull Was Fractured, Had Two Knife Wounds on the Face and Was Shot Through Kidneys—Suspenders Were Twisted Around His Neck and His Breast Caved In by a Heavy Beam.

Scranton, Pa., June 7.—Peter Rodobskie, a Polish miner, living in a settlement of his countrymen in West Scranton, was found slain upon the tracks of the Lackawanna railroad by a track-walker.

Rodobskie left his home on Saturday evening after drawing his pay and was not seen again by his wife and family until his body was discovered.

Rodobskie's killing was a most brutal crime. His skull was fractured, he had two knife wounds on the right side of his face, and he was shot through the kidneys. A part of one of his suspenders was found twisted around his neck, so that strangulation would have resulted in a short time, while a beam of heavy oak was let fall on him from a height, the man's breast being literally caved in. He had also a knife wound on the right hand. The county detective is of the opinion that the man was running away when the shot was fired, and that the other injuries were inflicted after he fell from the bullet wound.

No motive has been discovered for the crime and no clue has been found to the perpetrators. Rodobskie is survived by a widow and four small children.

ROBBERS TORTURE WOMEN

Burned Their Feet Until They Were Nearly Unconscious.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 7.—A brutal outrage, perpetrated by unknown robbers at Belmont, near here, has aroused the community, and a lynching is threatened in the event the men are captured. Five men, all masked, broke into the home of Mrs. Minnie Ashe, aged ninety years, and ransacked the place. With the aged woman were her daughter, Mrs. Mary Ober, sixty years of age, and her granddaughter, Miss Minnie Ober, twenty-three years old. The men found only $3.50 in the house and, believing there was more, they bound the three women and subjected them to merciless torture.

The men tore wire from the pictures hanging on the walls and fastened the three women to chairs. They then bared their feet and held lighted candles to their feet. Partially unconscious, the women were otherwise abused. Before leaving the house the burglars released Miss Ober, who recovered sufficiently to summon help.

HANGED NEGRO IN JAIL YARD

Mob Feared Murderer Might Escape Gallows Through Feigned Insanity.

Tallahassee, Fla., June 7.—Dangling from a limb in a tree in the county jail yard and within sight of the dome of the Florida state capitol, the lifeless body of Maik Morris, a negro, met the gaze of the people of this city. Condemned to death for the murder of William Langston, late sheriff of this county, this negro would have, within a few weeks, legally paid the penalty of his crime with his life.

Morris had been acting strangely, and it is believed that fear that the negro might escape the gallows through feigned insanity prompted the act of the mob.

PLAYED DEVIL TO SCARE BOY

Lad Disappears and May Be Drowned.

Flint, Mich., June 5.—"I am the devil. I am going to get you for running away from school."

Attired at night in a fantastic costume that he might scare his ten-year-old son Earl out of truancy, Walter Rockafellow shouted the words at the boy when the lad was coming home after the supper hour. The youngster ran to the house, where he was lectured.

The next morning the boy started for school, but did not report, and now the father has asked the aid of the police in locating the son. Fears are entertained that the lad jumped into the river.

The mother is nearly frantic over his absence.

PATRICK LOSES APPEAL

Court Denies His Argument For Release From Life Sentence.

New York, June 5.—Albert T. Patrick's appeal for liberty or death was denied by the appellate division of the supreme court in Brooklyn. Patrick had appealed to that court for a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus which he had obtained from an individual justice of the supreme court ordering the uprosecuting officer to show cause why he should not be released from prison or put to death for the murder of William Marsh Rice.

In support of the writ Patrick several weeks ago made a sensational personal appeal to the appellate division in which he declared that the commutation of his death sentence to that of life imprisonment by Governor Higgins constituted the imposition of a sentence worse than death.

In the opinion of the court, which was written by Justice Jenks, the most striking paragraph was one holding that the "degree of punishment is not determined by the preferences of the convict."

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—Orchestra and pictures Saturday night at Opera house.

—The State authorities are getting things in shape to make some repairs at the Bellefonte Armory. Among them will be a new floor in the basement and the fixing up the front which is badly needed.

—Invitations have been issued by Dr. and Mrs. George W. Hosterman, of Centre Hall, for the marriage of their daughter. Miss Helen Susanna, to Charles Frederick Shaw, June 19th. six o'clock, in Trinity Reformed church.

—R. B. Taylor, of Bellefonte, is pushing the work in connection with the building of the extention of the new section of state road leading from Sandy Ridge to Osceola, and will likely have the same completed about the middle of June.

—On Tuesday, June 1st., Mrs Elizabeth Jacobs, of east Lamb street, celebrated her seventy-sixth birthday anniversary. Notwithstanding her three score and sixteen years she in enjoying good health and spends a great part of her time in reading.

—A night of rare pleasure at the opera house Saturday June 12. Christie Smith's orchestra in a repetoire of fine concert music. Three reels of fine pictures all for 5 cents. Don't miss this fine entertainment. Until further notice only on Saturday night.

—Mr. James Parsons has resigned his position at the Keichline garage to accept a better one with the State College Transportation company at their shops now being erected at State College. As soon as Mr. Parsons can secure a desirable house he will move there.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Irvin Clark of Liberty township have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Violet Ruth, to Lee Irwin Bitner, at 6:30 o'clock of the evening of June 16 at the beautiful Clark homestead on Marsh creek, one mile and a half west of Blanchard.

—Wheat and flour are far higher in Bellefonte now than they have been in years. This week Gamble, Gheen & Co. paid $1.40 cash to one farmer in Penns valley for his crop of seventeen hundred bushels, and another farmer the same price for one hundred bushels. Flour is now up to seven dollars or $1.75 a sack.

—The Fast Watch is a new style of detective story in Hampton's Magazine for June that holds the attention of the reader from start to finish. It seems to have the deductions of Sherlock Holmes badly beaten for novelty and sureness. It is very interesting reading along with the many other good things the Magazine contains.

—There will not be any great stretch of State highway built in Centre county this year. The last Legislature appropriated but two million dollars for State highways for the next two years and last Saturday commissioner Hunter completed his apportionment of the available money for each county in the State for this year and Centre county's allotment is only $10,512.56, not enough to build two miles of road.

—The contractors on the new school house work are making good progress with the foundations and getting the old building torn down but that will all be changed next year and the new building which is certainly very pretty architecturally will add to the beauty of that end of our already pretty town especially if the school board use a little endeavour to beautify the surroundings. It is thought the smoke from the steam heat works will discolor the buff brick of which the building is to be built.

—Last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Spigelmeyer were looking forward to having their daughter, Mrs. John Hoffman and family, of Williamsport, with them over Sunday but they were disappointed. Saturday morning Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman's eldest daughter became ill and the physician at once pronounced it a case of scarlet fever and had the house quarantined, Mr. Hoffman and his two little sons going to a hotel. The case is not a serious one, however.

A Deserved Honor.

Beech Creek, June 7.—The honor conferred upon Urish Kitchen, of Beech Creek township, in selecting him to unveil the Soldiers' and Sailor's monument in Lock Haven the 29th inst., was well placed and there could not be found in the county one more deserving of this honor and distinction. Mr. Kitchen served in the war with Mexico, being in the principal battles and receiving a wound in the thigh. In the Civil war he again served his country faithfully, being a member of the Forty-ninth Pennsylvania Volunteers and again being wounded in exactly the same position in the other thigh. Mr. Kitchen is a man of honors, upright in character and of unquestionable integrity, who is admired and respected in the community where he lived for so many years. He is of modest manner, claiming no laurels, and the monument committee made their selection after much deliberation, and their final choice was wisely made, recognizing the merits of our local hero.

A PARTIAL REPORT

Of the Bellefonte Public Schools Submitted by Prof. J. E. Wagner.

Bellefonte, Pa., June 1, '09.

To the President and members of the School Board.

Gentlemen:

I herewith beg to submit a partial annual report of the Bellefonte Public Schools, the same covering a period of five months. The report will, of necessity, be somewhat limited in what it attempts to cover, as the contingencies of the situation have not furnished sufficient material to warrant a detailed account of the work done. The work of the year has seemingly gone along smoothly and the usual results attained, yet when a close study of the matter is made, it will be found that no great problems have been worked out, nor has any attempt been made to originate a policy that will be constructive in its nature. I refer now, of course, to the machinery of the schools, not to the plant itself. The explanation of the above facts is not hard to make, my predecessor's connection with the schools was not of sufficient duration to accomplish a great deal, and my own time has been devoted, wholly, to the carrying out of the instructions given to me by your board, that is, give my attention to the High School and use the remaining time at my disposal for work of a supervisory nature.

The most important developments in the school system of the borough during the past year has been your decision to erect a school building, modern in it's construction and equipment, and one that will, in a suitable manner, reflect the intelligence of our people and be a constant source of pride to the present and the future generation of the town. This action has marked a new era in the history of public education in Bellefonte and will place her in the front ranks of school systems supported by general taxation. Every dollar invested in the building will yield its influence in placing our boys and girls on a higher plan of living and foster in them an increased devotion to the functions of citizenship. Many of the threats and grievances of the past will be remedied, and provisions will be made for such an expansion in our school work as has been in the minds of those interested for some time.

STATISTICS.

Total enrollment during the term..685
Average attendance.....562
Percentage of attendance.....94

Out of 202,360 sessions of the schools, a total of 174 tardy cases has been reported.

TRUANCY.

During the month of January an abnormal amount of truancy had developed due to the lack of a properly constituted supervisory officer to look after such matters. On assuming the additional work, your principal found the first problem along this line. Rather strenuous means were resorted to for a while, but the results attained seemed to warrant such a course. Inside of a month the number of offenders was probably reduced to a minimum, as a certain class of families has always been a source of annoyance in this respect, and will, no doubt, continue to be so.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY.

The one-hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln was fittingly observed throughout our schools. During the forenoon of Feb. 12 the grades conducted their exercises in a highly commendable manner. Many of the parents and friends of the pupils were present to enjoy the programs. In the afternoon the High School celebration took place in the court house before a large audience. All phases of Lincoln's life were brought out in the program and such a presentation was given of what the man really was, as to rivet securely the life lessons of our foremost typical American. The events of the day were concluded in the evening in the court house, where a filled house greeted some of our prominent men who delivered impressive addresses. All told, we feel that the public schools of Bellefonte did their whole duty on that day.

LIBRARY.

The library in the high school continues to be a source of interest and mutual profit, not only to the pupils who use it every day, but to the boys and girls who have gone out from us. The attendance at the school during the past ten years has touched most of the homes of the town, and in this way the influence of the library has been felt. A good, workable library is indispensable in a school of secondary grade, and when it, to a certain extent, occupies the place of a public library—such as some must do in this town—it is of vital importance that it be properly supported. This, I am glad to say, has been done. Your board has very generously placed at our disposal the usual appropriation of $100 which was at once spent for books. The proceeds of the Junior contest was also used in the same manner, in this way one hundred and fifty books were added during the year, making a total of 1636 volumes on our shelves at present.

PROMOTIONS.

The observations made during the few months under my supervision were made with special reference to the thoroughness by which the work was done by each teacher. The amount of intelligence entering into the instruction, the preparation and recitation of work assigned to pupils, the cordial spirit existing between teachers and pupils all are reflected in the percentage of promotion made. Out of an enrollment of 205 in the primary grades, 18 were held over, or were not promoted; of 168 in the intermediate department, 5 were not advanced; out of 106 in the grammar school, 2 failed to receive recommendation, out of 104 in the high school, 10 were required to repeat. In short, out of a school population during the last month of 584, 94 per cent. were promoted, and 6 per cent. required to take the work over.

TUITION.

During the year forty-two tuition pupils were in attendance at our schools—sixteen of which were not present the whole year. I have sent a bill to the secretary of the Spring township school board for $517, the same to cover its share of tuition for the school year 1908 and 1909, and all back tuition as per the opinion handed down by Judge Orvis. In the statement sent to them the amounts were itemized under three heads; namely, tuition for pupils attending grades, 1908-09, $287, tuition for 7 months in the high school, 1908 09, $70, and back tuition since June 1906, as give by Mr. Meyer, $160.

Since assuming the duties of supervisory principal, I am able to report that all tuition has been collected that has fallen to my term, save, $9.50, which is, still outstanding. Back tuition to the amount of $9.50 has also been paid and deposited for the treasurer. Since January I have placed to your account in the Centre County Bank the amount of $217.50.

COMMENCEMENT.

The annual commencement exercises of the high school began with the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday evening, May 23, by the Rev. John Hewitt, of the Episcopal church. As usual the church was filled to the limit, and we are under great obligations to the members for the extreme kindness and courtesy shown on the occasion. On Monday evening, the Junior contest was held to decide the Reynolds prizes for declamatory work, Tuesday evening, in the Armory, the Alumni Association tendered the graduating class a reception which has become one of the social affairs of the town. Thursday afternoon, May 27, the graduating exercises proper of the class of '09 took place, and were followed in the evening by a most able address by Dr. Edwin E Sparks, President of the Pennsylvania State College. A class of ten boys and five girls received diplomas in the evening by your president, Mr. Quigley.

OUTLOOK.

The outlook for the coming year is exceedingly bright in the matter of a large attendance and increased activivity in school affairs. The entering class in the high school will be between 60 and 70, whereas during the last few years we have had from 35 to 50. The graduating class will likely reach twenty-five, making it the largest class ever sent out. In fact, I have inquires nearly every day concerning our work and requirements most of this present increase and interest are due, no doubt, to the prospects of up-to-date school facilities, and the probability of ultimate expansion in our work as soon as arrangements are perfected. With your permission, may I be allowed to mention a few of the additions that are desirable, and in fact necessary, if we are to enter into an era of expansion in our school life and be classed with really progressive schools? Among these are: (1) An additional teacher in the high school. This is, the lack of perhaps, one of our weakest points. A comparison with good schools in other towns will show that we are wonderfully handicapped in this respect. (2) An additional teacher would provide for a specially trained instructor in English. The English department on account of its work showing so forcibly all through life should be one of the strongest in the schools. This, however, is not the case. It has been our misfortune to lose the teacher in English every year since I have been associated with the school. A graduate of some college, usually without experience, and in every case but one, with a training for an entirely different line of work, has been placed in charge of the department. As a consequence there has never been any real organization of the work and no attempt made to work out a logical system, such as has been perfected in the departments where the teachers have remained loyal to the teacher. I am not criticising the instructors who have had charge of this work, but feel that it is the fault of the system. (3) The providing of instructions in music throughout the schools. We are woefully weak in this matter and behind the majority of schools in other places. (4) The organization of a course graduate instruction whereby those people who are too young to go to college, or who feel the necessity of additional instruction of a special nature may continue their studies. There is a positive demand at the present time for such facilities being provided. (5) The fitting up of the "commons" into a good play ground or athletic field if it is preferred to call it such.

These are some of the larger matters that are pressing for attention, and while we realize that the greatest objection to such a policy of expansion is the financial one, we appreciate that it is a grave one, and the carrying out of its provisions will be, necessarily, somewhat slow. The value of such a course, however, would, be justified in many ways—especially if we are aiming at a larger school life.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, I wish to state to the Board that one of the pleasures of the last five months has been the loyalty and good spirit shown by the teachers. They have been especially desirous to help me while attempting to carry on the additional work, and whatever has been accomplished is due largely to their responsiveness and willingness to act with the man in charge. I feel that I would not be true to my convictions if I did not give some expression to the valuable assistance given to me by Miss Levy. She was ever at my command and in many cases eased my work by performing duties unsolicited.

I wish also to express my gratitude and appreciation for the support given to me by your Board and by the members individually and for the many courtesies shown to me. You have looked upon my errors and shortcomings with charity and I want to assure you that I am deeply grateful for the expression of confidence that you have shown in me.

Respectfully submitted,
JONAS E. WAGNER.
Supervising Principal.

Academy Wins Closing Game of the Season.

The Bellefonte Academy base ball nine closed the most successful season in its history by defeating Juniata College by the score of 8-7. Barring one inning Bolton pitched an excellent game, but that one inning almost occasioned the defeat of the Academy when the visitors piled up their seven runs. With the score 7 to 3 against them the Academy played a fine up hill game and won out. The locals played a superior game, Sterling proving the hero of the day by making four hits and causing the tally of five runs. Captain Wagner also came to the rescue in the ninth by driving in the two runs which won the game. The Academy victories this year include Princeton "Preps," Penn Charter, Phila., Indiana Normal, Lock Haven Normal, Pine Grove, Juniata College and the Bellefonte team. This is a proud record.
